How will Luxembourg contribute to Sustainable Finance in 2025?

By 2025, investment in the sustainable finance sector will be worth trillions of dollars versus the billions counted today. Luxembourg will contribute to this drive by strengthening its position as a key hub for impact investment and blended finance, thanks to its efficient fund ecosystem and toolbox.

What will Luxembourg do in 2025?

Over the years, Luxembourg has become the go-to hub for financial institutions operating on a cross-border basis in the European market. Strengthening its role as a centre of excellence for international finance by creating value through multi-jurisdictional expertise and cross-border strategies is another objective for 2025.

Is energy storage a good investment in 2025?

Energy storage is one of Europe's fastest-growing asset classes. In today's market, funding follows preparedness. In 2025 and beyond, only projects that combine financial credibility, operational agility, grid-aligned design, and derisked structures will secure investor confidence and move to execution.
