How to encourage sustainable and green project financing in the Philippines?

Last year, the central bank of the Philippines, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), proposed the introduction of new incentives to encourage sustainable and green project financing in the country. However, legislation needs to be passed establishing specific banking guidelines, criteria and benchmarks for renewable energy project financing.

How can the Philippine government achieve a sustainable future?

The Philippine government has earmarked that renewable energy make up 35% of its energy mix by 2030 and 50% by 2040. Policies to help reach those goals include active participation in the Green Energy Auction Programme (GEAP).

How much money will the Philippines spend on gas projects in 2021?

From 2021 to 2023, local banks financed USD 1.2 billion for gas projects, up from only USD 296.5 million in funding from 2009 to 2020. Gas financing will likely escalate with both local and international banks keen to enter the sector, since the Philippines is building a major LNG import terminal and gas-to-power project.

Why is the Philippine energy sector struggling?

Another problem for the Philippine energy sector comes from the increase in gas project funding. From 2021 to 2023, local banks financed USD 1.2 billion for gas projects, up from only USD 296.5 million in funding from 2009 to 2020.
